1969 Ford Mustang Touring Car Masters - John Bowe

2010 saw John Bowe returning to the Touring Car Masters category driving "Sally", his 1969 Ford Mustang. Powered by a Ford Windsor 351 V8 engine the Mustang fastback was a consistent front runner winning the Touring Car Masters Championship in 2011 & 2012. The talented driving of Australian touring car legend John Bowe definitely brought out the best from this muscle car.

Chrysler Royal AP3 Wayfarer Ute

The AP3 was the final version of the Chrysler Royal & Wayfarer models. The distinguishable differences from its predecessors were its vertically stacked quad headlamps and triple tail lights. Chrysler's 3-speed Torqueflite automatic transmission replaced the 2-speed PowerFlite automatic of the AP2.

1970 XW Falcon Panel Van

The XW Falcon was released in June 1969 replacing the XT Falcon. Almost all exterior panels were new and the interior was extensively redesigned. The panel van was a popular choice for commercial use because of its large cargo area, load capacity, looks & strength. Engine choices ranged from 6 cylinders to a powerful V8.

In 2013 the NSW police highway patrol welcomed a tweaked HSV Gen-F GTS into its fleet. Although the car could easily outrun a number of would-be criminals, it was used for demonstration purposes only to connect with younger generation drivers and promote road safety. The police car is tuned to develop close to 500kW, making it quite easily Australia's most powerful police car.
